Gecko Arrives!

Thursday December 10th, 1998

The Gecko Developer Release has been posted on Netscape's FTP server and can be downloaded here. This release is only for win32 platforms, and will expire in the same way that the nightly builds do. This release also includes talkback, which allows for tracking of bugs that crash the viewer. Other than that, it is quite similar to the nightly builds.

Building Mozilla Without MFC

Thursday December 10th, 1998

Philip Kromer writes in with this news currently residing in the newlayout newsgroup. Philip writes, "Win32 build instructions - the full story." - from netscape.public.mozilla.layout. Richard Matthias has posted nice instructions on building Mozilla WITHOUT Micro!@#$ compilers.

He describes the tools you need (and where to get them) and the config files to make."

NGLayout/Gecko Demos

Thursday December 10th, 1998

A great new site called Gecko's Realm has opened up with lots of great demos ready for you to use with Gecko or the nightly builds. Also available are Mozilla.org's demos located here.

It is recommended that you wait for tonight's (12/10) builds, as yesterday's builds have a table bug, which should be fixed in tonight's release.

XPViewer is Dead

Tuesday December 8th, 1998

You read right, XPViewer is going to slowly be put to rest this month, and that can only mean good things. For those of you who didn't know this, XPViewer was never intended to be a released product, but just proof that a shell could be made around NGL. The XPApps group is now cooking up what will be the front end, and it will slowly become functional in the builds. The XPAFE will hopefully have all the functionality

Introducing Mozilla
Firefox 1.0

"I installed Firefox on my laptop today. It's so fast — I never knew there could be that much of a difference."

— Stephen Cropp, New Zealand

"I was tired of my browser crashing everyday, so I tried Firefox. Now I can't live without it. Pop-up blocking, secure browsing and no spyware. Best of all... not a crash since I switched."

— Justin Henderson, USA

"I thought changing and learning a new web browser would be difficult, but with Firefox I had no problems at all. Browsing is now smooth."

— Jouni Hättinen, Finland

Firefox is the free, open source web browser from the Mozilla Foundation that lets you surf faster and more efficiently and helps avoid annoying pop-ups and spyware. Join us and make the switch today — Firefox imports your Favorites, settings and other information, so there's nothing to lose.
